VINIFICATION

Both varieties, Tempranillo and Viura, are co-fermented with 25% whole clusters including stems, using indigenous yeasts.

AGING

Upon arrival at the winery, the clusters are partially destemmed and ferment with indigenous yeasts. The resulting wine is aged on its lees in French oak vats for 10 months.

PAIRING

Pairing it with a mushroom risotto garnished with freshly grated Parmesan cheese to enhance its earthy flavors and smooth texture.

TASTING NOTES

A red wine that enchants with its aromatic profile of blackberries, cherries, and delicate violet notes, intertwined with subtle spices. On the palate, its velvety texture and refined tannins unveil a delightful freshness and flavors reminiscent of wandering through a lush garden. This wine, both concentrated and harmonious, beckons for a delightful sip where fruit and nature intertwine seamlessly.
