ELABORATION

This albariño is traditionally made with the juice of the first pressed grapes so that their aromas are preserved. In the same line it is vinified in INOX tanks to preserve the exceptional organoleptic qualities of this grape.Young wine without aging.

PAIRING

Seafood, classic lobster, crab legs, escargots,fettuccine with shrimp, fresh oysters on ice, mussels, smoked salmon, white fish.

TASTING NOTES

Bright and clear with a color of hay and glint of green, high intensity wine with a torrent complex aromas. Floral hints, then the fruit with a background of herbs. The bouquet is that of a wonderful English garden.
